Miami Beach Lights Up Green for Mental Health

— Residents Encouraged to Participate in the NAMIWalks Miami-Dade 5K —

Miami Beach, FL – The City of Miami Beach will light up green starting tonight through Saturday, May 20 to commemorate May as Mental Health Awareness Month. Miami Beach City Hall will be bathed in green lights starting at sundown.

“Mental illness doesn’t have to be a barrier to a long and productive life, nor do people need to suffer alone,” explained Miami Beach Commissioner Laura Dominguez. “There are free services available in Miami-Dade County for anyone who needs them.”

The public is invited to show their support of mental health awareness by participating in a 5K walk organized by the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) Miami-Dade from 9:30-11 a.m. on May 20 at LoanDepot Park, 501 Marlins Way, Miami.

To register for the NAMIWalks Miami-Dade event or to make a donation, visit www.NAMIWalks.org/Miami. For more information on NAMI’s free mental health programs in Miami-Dade County, call 305.665.2540 or send an email to info@NAMIMiami.org.
